LEXINGTON, KY
OCTOBER 7-8, 2025

In its second year, the Appalachian School of Law and Energy & Mineral Law Foundation welcomes teams from law schools all across the country to Lexington, Kentucky, to participate in a moot court competition uniquely focused on energy law issues.

The first day of competition offers preliminary rounds of oral arguments in front of practicing attorneys, a complimentary lunch, and a reception where the semi-finalists will be announced.

The second day of competition intertwines with EMLF's Fall Symposium, which allows students to participate in educational sessions, as well as competing in the semi-finals and finals.
